

The Lost Boy

One day a man was travelling on a ship with his son. Suddenly, because of the man's carelessness the ship smashed into a large rock and the ship got broke. The boy got lost as the ship broke. He was near the bank when he got lost. That was an island.

He walked on the island and saw a map in a bottle. He took the map and followed it. It lead him towards a mountain. The sun set and begin to be dark. The boy said, "Hello, hello." He saw a man on the mountain.

He climbed the mountain. When he reached the top, he found his father. That map was his father's. His father put it on the ground because when the boy will reach there he will get the map and follow it. The map will lead him to his father. The boy was very happy when he found his father.
